

2019 Annual Report

Friends of DVN,

2019 was an exciting year for DVN! Not only did we educate 1,690 youth on healthy relationships, but we rolled out a new curriculum which we launched in August. The all inclusive curriculum focuses on kindness, shared values, protective factors of healthy relationships, emotional intelligence, identity, consent, and so much more. We are very proud and excited to have such a robust and comprehensive curriculum to share with our students!

DVN also educated over 2,000 adults, including providing best practice training for our Advocates Network. Our adult training is well received and the top training requests are DV 101 and Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs)/Trauma Informed Care.

We wrapped up Intersections while also conducting research for the next community wide plan, Equity. To inform the creation of Equity, we hosted simplex sessions, focus groups, and interviews on two populations that have historically been left out of the conversation about domestic violence prevention and intervention: Black and African American women and the LGBTQ+ community. We will spend the next three years facilitating focused task forces for both populations, holding events and programming aimed at education and best practices, creating training brochures, and working on educational outreach to service providers in Central Indiana on trauma-informed care.

Stay connected with us through social media @DNVconnect and our website to get involved with Equity events, Advocates Network, and to stay up to date on everything DVN!
